Youth Held On Burglary Charge Here

Paul Rice Confesses Robbery Of Store, Wanted For Like Offense At Oakland

Paul Rice, aged about 21, of 260 West Highland avenue, is in the Los Angeles county jail awaiting arraignment on charges of second degree burglary and petty theft growing out of the robbery last Thursday night of Roberts Market.

Cigarettes and tobacco valued at about $20 and $9 in cash said to have been taken from the cash register of the market, where Rice was formerly employed, were found at Rice's home, the money hidden in a mattress and the cigarettes under the house. Confined with the loot Rice is alleged by Police Chief Gordon McMillan to have said:

"Well, you found the stuff, and if I get anything for this I deserve it."

Questioned at the City Hall, Rice is said to have admitted that he had taken several drinks of bootleg when he conceived an idea of getting hold of some spending money.

Suspicion pointed to the former employ of the market as soon as the robbery was discovered on Friday morning by William Vineyard, an employee. The latter boarded at Rice's home. Only he and the proprietor of the market had keys.

After the money and stolen goods were recovered Rice explained that he had gone home late at night and took a key from Vineyard's pocket while the latter slept. He let himself into the store, took what he wanted and, on leaving, locked the door after him. He denied any knowledge of other petty thefts here, but is said to have admitted that he was the Paul Rice described in an Oakland Police Department "want" bulletin for November 10th last. The charge was petty theft. Chief MacMillan relayed this information north via telephone.

A preliminary hearing will be held next week. The prescribed penalty for burglary in the second degree is from one to fifteen years in state's prison.

Rice waived preliminary hearing Wednesday, and a date will be set for trial in Superior Court in Los Angeles next week.

Evans Wins Endorsement For Congress

Hoover Enthusiastically Hailed By 200 At Conference Of 11th District

Congressman William E. Evans was unanimously endorsed for the Republican nomination for Congress from the new Eleventh district at a conference in the Pasadena Civic auditorium on Wednesday afternoon participated in by more than 200 Republicans of the district which comprises the 42nd, 43rd, 47th and 48th Assembly districts. Mrs. Evans accepted the endorsement on behalf of her husband.

A platform on which he is expected to make his campaign for the nomination and election and which amounted to a ratification of the Republican National platform, was adopted without dissent and President Hoover and his policies were enthusiastically commended.

Montaville Flowers, who placed Mr. Evans name before the conference brought cheers by his declaration that the President's policies would bring this country out of the world crisis with flying colors and that a change of administration at this time would greatly delay the return of confidence so vitally necessary to the return of prosperity.

Many thinly veiled thrusts were made at former Congressman Randall who was declared to have "masqueraded as but was not a Republican."

E. D. Burbank, a delegate from this city, was elected vice-chairman of the conference; former City Clerk Elmer A. Green, a member of the conference committee, was made a member of the committee on temporary organization and seconded the resolution endorsing Congressman Evans. Councilman Lester K. Layton, a delegate, was named a member of the committee on permanent organization. Other conferees from this city were Mrs. J. N. Hawks, for whom Mayor Reavis served as proxy, and M. D. Welsher.

Myers Goes After Seat In Assembly

Other Local Aspirants Step Aside As Petitions Are Prepared In His Interest

City Business Manager Al S. Myers made formal announcement last night that he will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for the Legislature from the new 48th Assembly district. His nominating petition, already signed by many of the leading citizens of this city, Altadena and Lamanda Park, will be filed with the Registrar of Voters this morning.

The announcement followed a conference Wednesday evening between prospective candidates here, at which it was agreed that a local candidate would require the undivided support of this community if it hopes to have a representative at Sacramento. Councilman Lester K. Layton, who made a splendid bid for the nomination two years ago, and Gordon R. Brooks, member of the grand jury, agreed that if Mr. Myers would make the race they would not file petitions that had been circulated in their interest, but would support him.

Sierra Madre has never had a member of the Assembly. In the district of which it was formerly a part it played a comparatively inconspicuous part because it was grouped with Alhambra and much larger cities. It was placed in a district with Altadena, Lamanda Park, Flintridge and La Canada by the last Legislature and the new district will name its first legislator this year.

Altadena, largest unit of population in the district, has five avowed candidates between whom the vote of that territory will be divided. Myers has been assured of strong support in Lamanda Park, which is without a candidate. With anything like the support that a home candidate might expect here his friends believe he has better than an even chance to win, since he is widely known throughout the district.

At the petition of Mr. Myers was circulated in the city yesterday several applications were made at the City Hall for changes in the party affiliation of a number of voters and it was afterward learned that they had changed so that they might be able to support Myers in the August primary.

Among the signers to the nominating petition are A. M. Udell, Waverly E. Pratt, John E. Colbert, Rev. William Duncan Ogg, Warren E. Craig, Rev. A. O. Pritchard, Jack Buchanan, Mrs. Lucille C. Pickett, Frank A. Spencer, Dean Arnold G. Bode, Mrs. Nora M. Mesecar, James N. Hawks, F. G. Scalzo, Miss Edna R. Green, Walter S. Andrews, H. C. Reavis, C. J. Pegler, E. D. Burbank, W. J. Lawless, Mrs. Margie C. Steinberger, Elizabeth S. Steinberger, Mrs. Josephine E. Marr, Joseph Swanson, Jasper King, Jacob Anderson, A. E. Liscomb, S. L. Graham and Roland Adams, of this city; Clarence O'Neill Barton, district commander of the American Legion and A. C. Nelson, prominent Pasadena contractor, of Lamanda Park, and R. J. Burby and A. J. Larsen, of Altadena.

Permit Asked For $1,000,000 Track On The Baldwin Ranch

A communication to the Arcadia City Council Wednesday night by Anita Baldwin requested a change or amendment to the existing zoning ordinance which would allow for the erection on the Baldwin ranch of the Los Angeles Jockey Club and race track by Joseph M. Smoot in that city.

This news came after Smoot had already entered into an agreement with the Baldwin estate for the land upon which to build his million dollar project, and in sequence to various protests and agitation raised by Monrovia and Arcadia ministers against allowing a permit.

40 Join In Project To Boost City

Merchants Fix July 7 As Date For Launching Drive At Big Community Night

At a joint meeting of the Chamber of Commerce and the Merchants Association in the City Hall on Monday night a committee of five merchants that has been interviewing local businessmen to secure their co-operation in a campaign to bring about a better understanding in Sierra Madre, promote employment and the city's welfare generally, reported that nearly 40 merchants had identified themselves with the project.

The committee expressed the belief that practically every business house in the city would be represented before the campaign opens.

The proposed campaign was suggested by President Hoover's call upon every community to build up its resources, furnish the utmost in the way of employment to its citizens and to circulate the proceeds within the community.

July 7 was tentatively fixed by the meeting as the date for announcing details of the plan at a great community gathering, band concert, dance and entertainment in the City Park.

Enough business houses having signed up as participants to insure complete success of the undertaking, President W. S. Hull appointed a committee to carry through the program suggested at a previous meeting by a committee of five merchants that evolved the plan. The committee consists, for the most part, of this original committee and a committee of three later named to secure the participation of as many business houses as possible. The members are J. F. Sadler, Warren E. Craig, Tom Tyler, Frank Spencer, George P. Rikeman, J. E. Billheimer, Al S. Myers, John E. Colbert and Mayor Reavis.

L. K. Layton was delegated to appear before the Women's Club, Delphian Society and other organizations and ask for their interest and support of the movement.

Mr. Colbert was named as secretary of the Merchants Association, succeeding Mr. Rikeman, who announced he has identified himself with a Los Angeles firm and will be unable to give the time required by the duties.

A dinner meeting of the Merchants Association will be held next Wednesday in the quarters of the American Legion post at the City Hall and President Hull requested that every merchant in the city make a special effort to be present to assist in the preparation of plans for the launching of the contemplated campaign.

A short comedy by Mr. Hawks and cast entitled "Common Clay," will also be included. Many other interesting features will be announced later.

BOYS HERE BOX WELL AT LOS ANGELES SHOW

Although the three boys from St. Rita's Athletic Club and Holy Name Boxing Association participating in the inter-parish bouts at the Loyola gymnasium last Wednesday night all came in on the short end of the decisions, Sierra Madreans who traveled down to Los Angeles agree that they all put up a strong fight.

Ramon Sanchez, of Sierra Madre, at 110 pounds, held Lawrence Burke to a very even fight. Joe McCloskey weighed in at 115 and was pitted against one, Frank Lombardo at 140. Lombardo didn't have a thing on him. Harry Robinson, not scheduled on the program, was outpointed by Camille Bonus.

County May Aid Paving Plans Here

More Work For Unemployed In Sight As City Asks Help To Improve Streets

A delegation of more than 30 of the city's unemployed sat in the Council chamber at the City Hall on Wednesday night while the Council discussed a communication it has just received from the county government answering a plea that additional public work be financed here to take the place of the street improvement program halted when Ordinance 348 was declared invalid.

The reply announced that the only relief at present available must come from the county's welfare fund at the rate of $2.40 a day and that the work must be done on street or road projects to be approved by the county engineers, the city to provide materials, equipment and supervision.

In the hope that there will not be a complete stoppage here when the work being financed by the county in Bailey Canyon ceases, the Council adopted a resolution asking for a sum sufficient to furnish labor for the paving of Mariposa Avenue between Sierra Madre Avenue and Hermosa Avenue; Ramona Avenue between Sierra Madre Avenue and Hermosa Avenue; and Park Avenue between Ramona Avenue and Orange Grove Avenue.

It was estimated that 2,400 days of labor would be required at a cost by the county allowance for the purpose of $5,760. The resolution accepted the qualification that the city furnish materials, equipment and supervision.

The streets proposed to be paved constitute about one fourth of the unfinished mileage contained in the original paving program.

The unemployed had sent a communication to Council asking whether or not it would be possible to proceed with the paving of West Central avenue, whether or not it would be possible to induce the county to employ more Sierra Madreans on the work now being done at Bailey Canyon, whether or not it would be possible to have the county hasten the beginning of work on the extension of Central avenue through the Hastings ranch into Pasadena and to undertake at once the improvement of Sierra Madre avenue North from Central avenue, for which the county recently promised that an appropriation of $4,000 would be made to the city. Also the communication expressed the belief that the county is not allocating a sufficient amount of labor to Sierra Madreans on the new Santa Anita Highway. The communication was signed by William Barry, J. E. Davis, Max Tender and Fred Albrecht, all of whom were present.

Speaking for the unemployed Mr. Tender said the communication was not intended as a criticism of the Council, which the men believe to be doing everything possible to relieve the situation here. They realize, he said, that it was easy to outline work that might be provided, but they realized also the difficulty of figuring out a means of financing the work.

"We understand," he said, "that you must consider the interest of the taxpayer and that a reckless program would neither last nor would be tolerated by those who must pay the taxes. We merely think that, if possible, the program that was upset about two weeks ago might somehow be resumed and that it is about time to bury the hatchet and set aside any differences that might interfere with the furnishing of employment."

At a meeting of the Protective and Improvement Association in the Masonic Temple on Friday night President H. J. Kohl was authorized to appoint a committee to confer with the unemployed and the Council on the prospect of unemployment relief. There was a general discussion of suggested means of furnishing work and Max Tender asked where the money with which to carry on the work was to be had. A resolution was adopted protesting against the rate of 35 cents an hour being paid by the county for labor in Bailey Canyon.

Mr. Kohl said on Wednesday that he would appoint his committee within the next few days. He said he proposed to suggest the improvement of East Grand View between Acacia and the easterly city limits and the clearing of city property on the south part of East Grand View and its use for park purposes.

County welfare workers in Bailey Canyon numbered 23 this week as local relief work in its multiple form of Red Cross, Block-Aid and County Aid, went steadily forward. Of the number employed three are not citizens of Sierra Madre.

A $25 contribution was made to the Block-Aid by the John Ruskin chapter of the Daughters of the British Empire this week.

THE lovely pageant, "God's Garden of the Heart," so successfully given at the special Children's Day program at the Congregational Church, was graciously repeated before the club Wednesday morning by 20 children under the direction of Mrs. Waverly E. Pratt.

The children participating in this symbolic pageant were Katherine Norris, Berta Urte, Loraine Hobson, H. Clay Reavis Jr., Loren Pratt, Rudolph R. Hartman Jr., Buddy Hartman, Billy Adwell, Betty Jo Adams, Roberta Roberts, Margaret Adwell, Rosemary Butts, Barbara Wages, Mildred Osterhout, Margaret Pickett, Anna Sue Adwell, Elizabeth Ortiz and Irene Dalzell.

Very large baskets of gladioli, potted palms, and ferns transformed the stage into a veritable garden of beauty, which made a lovely and picturesque setting for the children in their flower costumes.

Mrs. Lela Embree accompanied at the piano by Gus R. Herd, then delighted all by her whistling of "Wedding of the Wind." And so realistic were her exquisite bird calls that the flower garden stage setting seemed to really live with the friendly presence of whippoorwills, meadow larks and mockingbirds. Annual reports as read by officers and departmental chairmen closed a most successful year's work.

In the absence of President Emeritus, Mrs. Harriet S. Wright, Miss Virginia Jones, retiring president, then installed the new president, Miss Edna R. Green, and the new board as follows: Mrs. Fletcher White, first vice-president; Mrs. William Lees, second vice-president; Mrs. Charles Collins, recording secretary; Mrs. Clara Sykes, treasurer; Mrs. Woodson Jones, auditor; and the directors, Mrs. C. E. Somner, Mrs. H. H. Steinberger, Mrs. Lester Wynne, Mrs. J. C. James, Mrs. E. E. Bacon, Mrs. W. R. Humphries, Mrs. L. M. Anderson and Mrs. J. M. Campbell. Following the installation of officers the outgoing board entertained the incoming board with a most dainty and appetizing luncheon in the Wistaria Room.

Firemen Are Entertained By Soldiers

Local Post Nominates Candidates For Delegate To State Convention

N. Earl Wharton, Naval Lieutenant on the staff of Admiral Simms during the World War and aid to President Wilson at the Paris peace conference, was the guest speaker of the local American Legion post Monday night when the Legion entertained the Volunteer Firemen at dinner. Wharton, who is a member of Pasadena Post No. 13, gave a comprehensive talk on the Communist movements in the United States and Europe.

For some years past Lieutenant Wharton has made a deep study of the 89 or more organizations of Communists throughout the world. Although strictly anti-Communist, he nevertheless had praise for the type of men in control. The 125 leaders of the 89 movements, he said, are closely bound together, so that the whole organization is powerful. Some of the individual groups having as many as two million men under allegiance, he said.

Proceeding the talk nominations were made for delegates from the Sierra Madre Post to the State convention in Oakland. Election will take place and names made public at the next semi-monthly meeting, Commander Embree announced.

Chief Richards and the volunteer firemen were the guests of the Legionnaires in special recognition of the firemen's assistance in the recent Memorial Day exercises. Also present were members of the City Council and administration.

In the meantime, "there is nothing to indicate for certain what reductions and economies will prove necessary."

No contracts have as yet been made, nor have any regular teachers been dropped from the payroll.

A. L. A. Activities

By Dorothy Shetler

FOUR "Auxiliaries" accompanied their Legionnaire better halves to the District Meeting at Covina on Friday night. The meeting was held out of doors in the Park. Many speakers, prominent in the Legion were present. Mrs. Berenice Keyes, our State president, spoke also and referred several times to the Auxiliary being spoken of by the Legion as equipment. The dictionary says that means something necessary for any particular service. "We could have been called worse things. The music furnished by the Legion band was excellent. A rousing speech on Americanism was given by a Covina high school student. We didn't catch the young fellow's name, but no one had any trouble in catching the patriotism of his oration. There was so much doing it would take the whole column for that alone. A few of the laughs of the evening—"Cactus" Barton urging everyone to give everyone a big hand... the little dude in the white trousers, cutaway coat, flaming neck tie, various watch chains, charms and fobs, and pink ribbon shoe laces. Was he a funny little honey? Hot cha! Also the big palooka who voted "No" on every question or resolution.

We ladies got a big kick out of the manner in which the various units answered the roll call, and how sedate the entire program was—Oh yeah? In last week's column the femmes coverts (this may not even be French!) were urged to attend this meeting to see how the sterner sex talked and talked. So Mrs. Ben Stinman, Mrs. Roy Pickett, Mrs. Arthur Embree and your columnist attended. And we all can report they may be the sterner sex, but certainly not the silent one.

Last news to date of the Taylor, Reed and Pickett trek back East was received by Mrs. Roy Pickett and Mrs. Roland Parmenter. Mrs. Pickett had a card saying they all were past Joplin, Mo., safely. Mrs. Parmenter's card stated Mrs. Taylor was feeling fine and had not had an asthma attack, which is certainly good news.

Everyone is eagerly awaiting news of Mrs. R. Lovejoy, who has as her new address the Los Angeles General Hospital. She is expecting Johnny Stork to visit her at her present residence.

Song Master Thrilled By Bailey Park

Acoustics Of Amphitheatre Pronounced Ideal After Test By The Players

"Your Bailey Canyon Park is superb—I was thrilled by it. You have here one of the loveliest places I know for the enjoyment of outdoor singing and pageantry. The acoustics and scenery are both marvelous. . . . This and additional enthusiastic comment on Sierra Madre's Bailey Canyon by one of the world's most famous song masters, Hugo Kirchhofer, came as a fitting conclusion to the Players' picnic and entertainment which took place in the canyon Saturday afternoon and evening when they presented several skits to try out the acoustics. Fifty members of the Community Players and their guests assembled before sundown at picnic tables on the large natural stage which is now very near completion. First they were entertained by a short program of readings given by Mrs. Waverly E. Pratt, Gilbert Sommer and Selwyn Myers. Mrs. Pratt presented an original descriptive poem which was well received by the audience. Both Myers and Sommer quoted Shakespeare ably. The numbers were introduced by Al Myers, City Business Manager.

In between songs led by Mr. Kirchhofer, lunch baskets were opened. Coffee was served by the Players organization. Gathered at last into a circle down below the level of the stage old-time songs were sung until well after dark. Impressive was the concluding selection, "Alhambra," softly sung in the dark canyon.

It is planned to have another like sing in the near future with Mr. Kirchhofer leading.

PALMS
By Jessie Ward Russell
Landscape Gardener

THE California landscape would be lacking in charm if it were not for the palms.

Tourists from the "East" notice the palms before anything else. Palms suggest warmth and romance. They are suited to the Spanish and Mexican type of architecture that is being used so much now. For street tree planting they are particularly adapted. They make a neat, clean tree which takes up little space in the parking strip, yet they give some shade if planted fairly close together.

All palms transplant well during the summer months. They are easy to move as their roots are compact and hold the dirt well when they are "balled" out. The Cocos Plumosa palm has become the most popular of all the palms and it is right that it should be, because it is so slender and graceful. It is fairly quick growing. For street tree planting it is the best of all palms. It can be planted in comparatively small holes cut in the pavement. If spaced rather close together the leaves will interlace and give considerable cool shade on hot days. If planted in large lawns they can be grouped.

Chamaerops Excelsa is another graceful palm. You can distinguish it by its slender trunk which is covered with fibre resembling hair. The leaves are fan shaped on short stems. It is sometimes called the "Windmill Palm." It is always good looking if properly placed. It can be used in about the same way as the Cocos palms.

Washingtonia Robusta is the common fan palm and is useful any place where a tall quick-growing palm is needed. It has larger leaves and trunk than the Chamaerops palm. The old leaves fall down on the trunk under the green leaves with a skirt-like effect. A few of these tall palms make a beautiful background for a large Spanish-type building.

Erythea Edulis is a fan palm that has immense leaves on long stems. The leaves grow compact and because of their long stems and large leaves the palm is as wide as it is tall. There is another variety of the Erythea palm called Armata that is blue-grey in color, and makes a fine contrast if planted in a group of other palms.

Phoenix Canariensis is the distinguished name given to the common ornamental date palm. This palm is often incorrectly used but if properly placed is a grand palm and will make a splendid shade tree too. Because it grows to such a size, it must only be planted in large grounds. A small Phoenix palm is such a graceful, innocent looking plant they are always being set out just where they shouldn't be. How often you see two of these palms planted in the centers of the two sides of a small lawn. After a few years they have taken up the whole yard and the house has become dwarfed and half hidden behind them. This is wrong. They should not have been planted in the small yard and are never suited to street tree planting for the same reason. The parking strips are very seldom wide enough for them. But on the large estate, Phoenix Canariensis palms grouped with other huge palms are very effective. Small ones growing in pots make handsome porch plants.

Cocos Australis palm resembles the Phoenix Canariensis palm more than it does the Cocos Plumosa palm. It has large graceful leaves that are a bluish grey in color. They should be grouped with the green leaved palms so as to bring out their color. Cycas Revoluta or Sago Palm is dwarf growing in habit. It makes a fine specimen plant in the lawn or can be used as a potted plant for the porch or patio. It has stiff, glossy green leaves.

Washingtonia Robusta is the common fan palm and is useful any place where a tall quick-growing palm is needed. It has larger leaves and trunk than the Chamaerops palm. The old leaves fall down on the trunk under the green leaves with a skirt-like effect. A few of these tall palms make a beautiful background for

Fire Flames

By one of the boys

THE "Headquarters" look pretty slick since a group of the lads gathered there a few nights ago with cleaning equipment. The ladies noticed that the floors were not in top condition and when they dropped a few hints the Chief ordered a "clean up" night.

We still continue to receive many nice compliments from worth while sources and maybe George Norris is right about Sierra Madre's Fire Department. After all, George boasts that his fire department is the best in the State, or maybe he said in the world, at any rate his talk has had its effect. Just recently while making a talk at a Kiwanis Luncheon, City Manager Myers revealed to the gathering that due to the many improvements in the fire department, a great big reduction was made in the insurance rate. And it mounted into thousands of dollars, too. And just a few nights ago, when the fire chiefs met at Pasadena, the principal speaker announced that soon they would meet in Sierra Madre, where there was a "real fire department."

Of course this is all very nice to hear and if we get just a little "cocky," it will only be George. At that, there isn't a doubt about George being serious when he boasts, for he is heart and soul in the work, and a great portion of the success of our organization can be laid to his interest.

But George is not alone when it comes to taking an interest. All the members in the fire department. Each fellow is fitted for some particular part and accepts it willingly. A few of the boys are real mechanics, some are salesmen, one or two are gardeners, (maybe) some are in business (everybody's), and others are just ordinary handy men. A couple of the boys are carpenters but they are always trying to be orators. And so we have a wonderful fire department. And how!

LOCAL BOYS NOW OFFICER PASADENA CHAPTER A.Z.A. Joseph B. Weiss was installed as president of Pasadena Chapter No. 48, Order of Aleph Zadik Aleph, Wednesday night, as three other Sierra Madrenes took leading positions in that organization. Inducted into the offices of secretary and chaplain, were Harold Keltz and Ruben Brown, outgoing president, who conducted the installation service. Joe Shapiro, re-elected treasurer, was unable to be present.

All the American World War Veterans are in the United States. There are 1000 in France with their wives and families. A plan is on foot to Americanize their children by teaching them the same studies and ideals as they would get in the public school in America.

Hot Lead

By R. O. Caukin
THE Fire Department boys certainly were there, but not so much with the cats, as "Fire Flames" promised, as in the practically 100 per cent turnout. The Chief gave us a neat little speech, and had each one of his men stand up and receive the applause that the Department, individually and collectively, is entitled to at all times. Of course, we didn't look to see how much they ate, but felt sure that Chief Yoder was treating them right. The Firemen's visit was very gratifying to the Post, and we hope that they will come again.

Another potluck supper is set for the middle of July. The Post and the Auxiliary will join in the affair, for the double purpose of having the usual good time and raising money for further equipment of the headquarters. Additional chairs are particularly needed.

Comrades, I am off this here political game for life. You should hear what Art Evans said to me about my proposing him for next Commander. But you know how Art can talk when he tries to be peeved. So, that proposition is all off. However, a lively contest seems to be shaping up with other material.

Here is a laugh. A recent Washington news dispatch had it that official bands were entertaining groups of the B.E.F. in their mudflat camp, and that their programs were largely made up of "sentimental, home suggesting airs," to get the bonus boys to vacate the government's front door-step and move on home. Imagine the Washington authorities sending bands around to the plush carpeted quarters of the corporation and other special interest lobbies, to soften their hearts—and heads—with "sentimental, home suggesting airs!" Time out, until next week, while we grin.

FOR FARMERS
NOW
by RALPH H. TAYLOR
Sec. Agricultural Legislative Committee of California

Hard times have one distinct advantage, at least, in that they often expose false values which have obtained in times of prosperity and place true emphasis on fundamentals. During the present economic upheaval, for instance, California business leaders have acquired a new and healthy respect for California farmers—a respect born of the realization that the state's basic wealth still comes from the soil. Agriculture, in many instances, has evidenced better ability to adjust itself to radically changed conditions than business and industry. And farm trade, for the most part, has held up better than city trade—a condition which has won lively appreciation in the business world.

Closely following the disclosure, in a recent business survey, that California farmers spend more than $300,000,000 annually with state merchants, the United States Census Bureau has given new emphasis to the importance of farm trade with the release of a report showing that retail trade, during 1930, was almost uniformly better in the state's rural communities than in the great centers of population.

Merchants Lose To Pasadena 11 To 5 And Glendora 13-2

Nine errors by the Sierra Madre Merchants tells the story of their defeat at the hands of the Pasadena entry in the Sierra League on the school athletic field here on Friday night by a score of 11 to 5.

Seven of the visitors runs were due to errors. Four of the five tallies registered by the locals were earned.

The home fans had an opportunity for some lung exercise in the third inning when Brain and Greer slammed out home runs in succession.

Score by innings:
Pasadena..... 212 301 101—11
Sierra Madre..... 202 000 010—5
Summary—Struck out by Kiggins 3, Waggoner 9; Base on balls off Kiggins 1, off Waggoner 4; Home runs, Brain, Greer, B. Norton; 3-base hits, Cox, Greer; 2-base hits Cox and Rady. Earned runs, Pasadena 4, Sierra Madre 4.

Though they knocked out 10 hits in their game with Glendora here on Tuesday night, the Merchants could only get two runs across. Glendora piled up 13 runs on 12 hits, Sierra Madre's errors again being costly.

Large Attendance At Vacation Bible School In Bethany

Seventy-eight children were enrolled the first day of the Sierra Madre Daily Vacation Bible School which opened Monday at Bethany Church. Interest and attendance have increased during the week.

The general theme followed through all of the departments is "The Trail of Everyday Living." This study is applied to everyday living at home, in the community, on the playground and in the school room.

There is Bible Study, memory work, music and hand work which prove very interesting to the children.

Mrs. Fies, the principal, invites all the children and about Sierra Madre, between the ages of 5 and 15, to attend. The school is in session every day except Saturday, from 9 a.m. until 12 o'clock.

STORES PLAN TO SELL 75,000 OLYMPIC PINS

America's victory on the Olympic Games fields in August will depend on the extent to which the public supports its team. All expenses for the training, equipment and traveling of the team will come from the public, and a national fund of $350,000 for this purpose is now being raised.

The California quota is to be secured through the sale of official 50 cent pins, which have just been placed on sale at every Safeway and Piggly Wiggly store in the state. They have taken 75,000 of the official emblems for sale to the public at 50 cents each. Every citizen should wear one on his lapel.

WILSON P.T.A. INSTALLS ITS NEW OFFICERS

The final meeting of the year was held last Wednesday by the Woodrow Wilson Junior High School Parent-Teachers Association under the stately oaks at the school. Following a picnic luncheon officers for the coming year were installed by Mrs. T. L. Marsden, president of the Pasadena Council. The association needs volunteer workers for the summer canteen and donations of non-perishable groceries.

The News Printery is equipped for every kind of printing.

A ROUND a campfire on the school grounds, the Scouts of Troop 2 held the weekly meeting Wednesday night, June 22. The fellows were given a brisk drill and then played outdoor games by the fire.

Contrary to their usual custom Troop 2 will continue meetings during the summer with the schedule the same as at present: every Wednesday evening at 7:30. The Scoutmaster wishes all boys at home this summer to attend and have some get-together meetings, programs to be decided on later.

Note—All Scouts working for merit badges this summer—your application deadline for next Court of Honor is August 1.
